Liberation Plaza Vicinity
(University and Emerson)
Palo Alto- November 5th
at 8:00 P.M.

For the past six weeks the young people of the Peninsula have waged an ongoing struggle for the right of peaceful assembly at Liberation (Lytton) Plaza, in downtown Palo Alto. The movement began when the Midpeninsula Free University denied their right to provide for young people in the area a community center. It has become increasingly clear that private interests, and private financial power, have thwarted the basic needs of young people in the Palo Alto-Nairobi-Menlo Park community. The issue has thus expanded to confront the notion of the ability of private power to disposses a community. Around the planet those who have been dispossessed by private interests are banding together in opposition, saying everywhere "We are the people."

On November 5th the myth of American Democracy will be buried and a newer, younger spirit will be born. The credibility gap will never heal, we must build a new body.

Despite previous arrests at Liberation Plaza, despite the hired riot police and their reactionary weapons, despite electoral intimidation and foolishness: Join us- For the festival of Voting in the Streets.
