FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

PROFESSOR WILLIAM R. RAMBO ^{director of AEL} is a ~~charter~~ ^{charter} member of an organization known as the Association of Old ~~Crows~~ ^{Crows}. Their motto as printed on their insignia is interpreted from the Latin as: ~~they will not see~~ ^{they will not see}. The qualifications they require are to have "evinced a sincere interest and dedication to the advancement of the art of electronic warfare." THIS IS NO JOKE! This is an organization of engineers which exists.

In an address to a convention of the Old Crows in Washington D.C., Sept. 27, 1967, Lt. Gen. Jack J. Catton, USAF Deputy Chief of Staff said; "It is no secret to you that Electronic Warfare is being employed more extensively today in Southeast Asia than in any previous conflict...I think it important that we do not permit the Crows to fly away...Indeed, it may be that your group will become the predominant factor when the current conflict in Southeast Asia draws to its conclusion...When that time comes this association may well be called upon to serve as the rallying point to preserve the scientific and technological base upon which to build when the need again arises."

The aims and purposes of the Old Crows as ~~are~~ listed on the membership card are the following:

- *To foster and preserve the art of Electronic Warfare
- *To promote the exchange of ideas and information in this field
- *To recognize advances and contributions to Electronic Warfare
- *To document the history of Electronic Warfare
- *To commemorate fittingly the memory of Fellow Crows

A ~~MEMBER~~ MEMBER OF THE STANFORD COMMUNITY, having recently met a few local Old Crows during the course of business, reported that "they ~~are~~ were the scariest men I've ever encountered." The Stanford man, who has spent over a decade working in the Defense-Industrial Complex around Dallas said, "H.L. Hunt and his brand of right-wingers are positively benign compared to the Old Crows." "Old Crows are completely amoral men - they spend their time sitting around thinking up ways of applying sophisticated technology to killing of people."

WHAT WOULD PROFESSOR WILLIAM R. RAMBO DO IF NO ONE WATCHED HIM?
