

THE STANFORD RESEARCH INSTITUTE COALITION

A University committee is presently studying the relationship between Stanford and the Stanford Research Institute. We are disturbed to discover that in the course of the committee's deliberations, SRI has renewed its major counter-insurgency project in Southeast Asia. In addition, two Chemical-Biological Warfare contracts are pending. Furthermore, there is a danger that the study committee will recommend that the University sever ties with SRI, thus absolving the University of responsibility for the work of the Institute.

As concerned members of the Stanford community, we feel that SRI should direct its work toward creative and humane goals, and that the University community has a responsibility to make such moral judgments. Specifically we feel that under these standards, work in such areas as Chemical-Biological Warfare and counter-insurgency in Asia and Latin America is unacceptable.

Therefore, we urge that SRI be brought under closer control by the University community and that no further Chemical-Biological Warfare or counter-insurgency contracts be accepted by SRI.

- Caroline Bixby, Head Women's Sponsor
- Yale Braunstein, LASSU Speaker
- Robert McAfee Brown, prof. of religion
- John Chowning, asst. prof. of music
- Dwight Clark, dir. Volunteers in Asia
- Martin Cornoy, asst. prof. of education
- John Duryea, Catholic chaplain
- Jerome Feldman, asst. prof. computer sci.
- John Flores, asst. prof. of German
- David Jones, Com. for Dem. Politics
- Harold Kahn, visiting asst. prof. history
- Hadley Kirkman, prof. of anatomy, emeritus

- Eric Larson, Head Men's Sponsor
- Virginia Linsley, Students for Dem. Soc.
- David Mannheimer, ASSU Education Council
- Andrew Moss, Stanford AFT
- Donna Myers, asst. to Catholic chaplain
- Paul Rupert, Resistance
- David Schilling, asst. to Dean of Chapel
- Victor von Schlegel, ASSU v.-p.
- Pat Shea, ASSU Education Council
- Norman Sissman, assoc. prof. pediatrics
- Philip Taubman, editor of The Daily
- Michale Wald, asst. prof. of law

Those who are interested in obtaining further information about the SRI Coalition, please call 326-2745 or 321-7858.

NAME	ADDRESS (with ZIP)	PHONE
1.
2.
3.
4.
5.
6.
7.
8.
9.
10.
11.
12.
13.
14.
15.
16.		