

Index

Business-Markets	3-9
Comics	31
Editorials-Columns	24-25
Family-Leisure	16-19
Sports	29-30
TV-Radio	15
Theater-Arts	11-14
Want Ads	33
Vital Statistics	18
Garden	19-21

Palo Alto Times

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

80th Year—No.96

44 PAGES, FOUR SECTIONS

PALO ALTO, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, APRIL 21, 1972

Phone—326-1200
Want Ads—831-04

Russ cut status of President Nixon's visit in retaliation for V

MOSCOW (AP) — In apparent reprisal for resumption of American bombing of North Vietnam, the Soviet Union has downgraded the status of President Nixon's scheduled visit here next month, Communist sources reported today.

Instructions have been issued in the information and propaganda organs of the Communist world to refer henceforth to the visit as a "summit" and not as a "state visit," the sources said.

Diplomats from countries friendly to the Soviet Union were surprised at the news. They said that up until very recently senior Soviet officials had been telling them that Nixon's May 22-29 trip to Russia would be a state visit.

The difference between a state visit and a summit meeting is more than a fine distinction in diplomatic protocol.

With all its ceremony intended to convey respect for the visitor, a state visit symbolizes a movement together of two nations, in this case the world's two greatest powers. It suggests an advanced degree of cooperation between the two states, or at least establishment of the basis for future cooperation.

Unlike the state visit, one diplomat commented, a summit meeting can be held anywhere. The purpose of a summit is usually to deal with urgent current problems, to relieve some of the tensions of the global situation. It implies concen-

One experienced diplomat said "a state forward looking, a summit to do with today."

Officials at the U

Antiwar strike

15 arrested at Stanford

RONDA MACCHELLO

Fifteen persons were arrested at Stanford University this morning as more than 300 attempted to block the entrance of Encina Hall and the Hansen Microwave Electronics Laboratory.

The activities were in support of today's nationwide student strike protesting the escalation of bombing in North Vietnam, and Stanford seemed to be taking the brunt of the protests in California.

The crowd at Stanford started assembling at about 8:30 a.m. around the main entrance of Encina Hall.

The building houses administrative offices.

The students, many of whom carried placards, blocked the front door.

At 7:30 a.m. a tactical squad from the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Office arrived and asked the crowd to disperse. Twelve persons in the crowd were then arrested. All were charged with trespassing, and six were additionally charged with resisting arrest or assault and battery.

The crowd immediately broke up and moved down Serra Street toward the Hansen Microwave Laboratory. They assembled on the stairs of the lab and in the street in front of the laboratory.

At this point a number of the demonstrators began to file through the corridors of the lab.

At 8:30 a.m. sheriff's depu-

★ ★ ★ ★

50 war foes invade office

More than 50 antiwar demonstrators swarmed into the administration building at Foothill College in Los Altos Hills this morning, but left voluntarily after about an hour.

Some demonstrators invaded the office of Foothill President Hubert Semans and engaged in discussions with him. Observers reported the demonstration was peaceful.

ties arrived and arrested three persons, including two strike leaders, David Josephson and Virginia Falter, who were speaking on the steps of the lab.

Josephson is the guest professor paid by the Associated Students of Stanford University and Miss Falter is a junior political science major. They were arrested on suspicion of trespassing and inciting to riot.

Also arrested was Nancy Fraas, a neo-student, on suspicion of trespassing and resisting arrest.

Observers said, however, that the group had just voted to disperse as deputies arrived and made the arrests.

After the arrests the crowd still exceeding 300 persons, marched to White Plaza where the Stanford Strike Committee had set up a microphone.

Leaders urged students to break into groups and visit classrooms in an attempt to (Continued on page 2, col. 5)

Fight for the flag

Antiwar demonstrators and Marvin Herrington (dark glasses), chief of Stanford University police, scuffle over a U.S. flag ripped from a flagpole in front of the campus post office this morning.

B52s North port

By ARTHUR HIGBEE
SAIGON (UPI)—B52s returned to North Vietnam today for the first time since Sunday's raids against the Hanoi-Haiphong area and bombed port facilities at Thanh Hoa, 72 miles below Haiphong. Swarms of fighter-bombers hit the north over a wide area in day-long raids.

The strikes came as the North Vietnamese offensive edged closer to Saigon with a shelling attack on the U.S. Air Base at Bien Hoa, 15 miles to the north, and pressure that forced the evacuation of the district towns only 40 miles from Saigon.

Field dispatches said some South Vietnamese defenders had been driven back two miles toward Saigon from An Loc and residents of Chon Thanh fled southward on moving south 15 toward away.

Allied Communist alongside four miles and 44 miles

The Communist captured a Da Nang—drove civil Thanh and northwest outflanking Highway 1 fire into it Phuoc Loi, Saigon.

A Communist pushed toward name ho from Saigon