

changed their minds simultaneously about the fairness of the Saturday hearing when they cooperated to dismiss its findings at the Monday session.

When was the next hearing?

8:00 am. under armed guard next to the police station, in Maples Pavilion. It was a closed hearing, held the following Monday, February 7.

Who else is to be tried by the CJP?

Kwon-ping Ho, a student from Singapore, will be tried for a number of radical actions he participated in. If he is suspended or expelled, he will be immediately deported home and drafted into the army.

On Monday, Feb. 14, students charged with disrupting William Shockley's class will be tried. The students tried to ask Shockley how a man who believes in the genetic inferiority of black peoples' minds and advocates the sterilization of black women can claim not to be racist. They wondered how Shockley can teach black Stanford students fairly if he believes that they belong to an inferior race.

What can I do to stop the CJP?

The most important way to stop the CJP is to show that we are not intimidated by the prospect of being tried by this kangaroo court. Demonstrations at the placement center must continue so long as the military and those companies that supply the technology that makes the killing possible are allowed to recruit here.

On Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 9 - 10, there were militant non-violent demonstrations at the Placement Center to protest:

- 1) Naval Aviation, which is looking for new pilots to bomb Vietnam and kill Vietnamese;
- 2) General Electric, which makes machine guns, engines, and armaments for those planes the pilots fly. GE was the third largest DoD contractor in the country in 1970, with over one billion dollars worth of contracts for the military.
